ANNOUNCING THE NEW LAW DAY

Join us as we reinvent the traditional Law Day Dinner with an exciting and one-of-its kind celebration of the Boston legal community. The 2019 Law Day event welcomes attorneys and business professionals to come together in a new format, while carrying on the rich tradition of Law Day: to recognize and celebrate the importance of the rule of law in the United States.

This year's Law Day will take place at historic Boston Symphony Hall. Guests will enjoy an enhanced cocktail reception featuring gourmet food, an open bar and live entertainment while connecting with friends and colleagues throughout one of the premier concert halls in the world. Following the reception guests will be invited onto the Orchestra floor and into the balconies for a keynote address from Marty Baron, Executive Editor of the Washington Post.

Register early to guarantee select seating at tables on the orchestra floor.

ABOUT LAW DAY

Law Day was established in 1958 to mark the nation's commitment to the rule of law. This year's ABA Law Day theme, Free Speech, Free Press, Free Society focuses on these cornerstones of representative government and calls on us to understand and protect these rights to ensure liberty for all people in the United States. The BBA is proud to celebrate this year's theme with our keynote speaker, Marty Baron.

ABOUT MARTY BARON

Martin "Marty" Baron became executive editor of The Washington Post on January 2, 2013. He oversees The Post's print and digital news operations and a staff of more than 800 journalists.

Newsrooms under his leadership have won 14 Pulitzer Prizes, including seven at The Washington Post. The Post, during his tenure, has won four times for national reporting, and once each for investigative reporting, explanatory reporting and public service, the latter in recognition of revelations of secret surveillance by the National Security Agency.

Previously, Baron had been editor of The Boston Globe. During his 11 ½ years there, The Globe won six Pulitzer prizes—for public service, explanatory journalism, national reporting and criticism. The Pulitzer Prize for Public Service was awarded to the Globe in 2003 for its investigation into a pattern of concealing clergy sex abuse in the Catholic Church, coverage portrayed years later in the Academy Award-winning movie "Spotlight."

Prior to the Globe, he held top editing positions at The New York Times, the Los Angeles Times and the Miami Herald. Under his leadership, the Miami Herald won the Pulitzer Prize for Breaking News Coverage in 2001 for its coverage of the raid to recover Elián González, the Cuban boy at the center of a fierce immigration and custody dispute.

His honors include Editor of the Year by the National Press Foundation (2004), the Al Neuharth Award for Excellence in the Media (2017), the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press Award (2017), and the Award for Public Leadership from the University of Pennsylvania's Fels Institute of Government (2016). In 2012, he was inducted into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is the recipient of honorary doctorates from George Washington University, George Mason University, and his alma mater, Lehigh University.

Registration and payment must be received no later than June 17, 2019. Return this form with payment to: Boston Bar Association, Department 550, P.O. Box 4110, Woburn, MA 01888-4110 or fax to 617.523.0127.
