

Scarlett Ungurean Named New E.D., ABA Retirement Funds

Chicago, IL; April 28, 2009 – The American Bar Association Retirement Funds Board of Directors is proud to welcome Scarlett Ungurean as its new Executive Director of the American Bar Association Retirement Funds Program (the “Program”). The Program operates as a not-for-profit and provides unique, low-cost 401(k) plans and fiduciary oversight to law firms of all sizes. In this position, Ms. Ungurean will be in charge of the overall management of the Program that services more than 4,000 law firms with over 40,000 participants and $3.0 billion in assets.

Ms. Ungurean, who previously was the Senior Manager of the Defined Contribution Plan at the Boeing Company, brings over 13 years of experience in the retirement industry to the Program. She joins Bradley Blewett, the Program’s Associate Executive Director, who supervises the Program’s sales and marketing efforts. Together they will be dedicated to fulfilling the Program’s mission to provide robust and affordable retirement solutions to the legal community.

"Scarlett Ungurean’s diverse and comprehensive experience with retirement plans will greatly benefit the ABA Retirement Funds Program’s current and future clients and will complement the expanded sales effort headed by Brad Blewett," noted Harry Hathaway, President of the Board of the ABA Retirement Funds.

Before joining ABA Retirement Funds, Ms. Ungurean oversaw the defined contribution plans at The Boeing Company, where she reviewed plan design and assisted with investment manager search and monitoring. Prior to The Boeing Company, she worked for Mercer Investment Consulting, which helps plan sponsors of all types with investment related issues including investment manager search and monitoring and policy development. Ms. Ungurean is a CFA charterholder, CFP, and CA with an Honours Bachelor of Mathematics from the University of Waterloo in Canada.
