Tom Gunning, Vice President and General Counsel of EMD Serono, Inc., explained: “EMD Serono serves the patient community with research and medicines for multiple sclerosis, infertility, metabolic disorders and oncology. We also serve the larger communities where we work by giving back. Partnering with GBLS through pro bono work, financial contributions and other service is the right thing for all law firms and corporate legal departments to do — especially in these economic times.”

“Working at a non-profit agency as a Benefits Specialist/Advocate...I often collaborated with GBLS to access services for clients in crisis”, said Elaine Bennett, a community representative of Jamaica Plain. “I have witnessed firsthand, the extremely high ethics and standards of the GBLS professional staff. I am extremely honored to be a Board Member at GBLS and am excited to bring my years of advocacy expertise to the organization.”

Alison Reif, Partner at Choate, Hall & Stewart, stated: “I am honored to have been asked to join the GBLS Board and am very much looking forward to working with the GBLS staff, lawyers, Board members and clients that make this organization the wonderful institution that it is. I am particularly pleased to have the opportunity to play a role and put my professional skills to work for an organization that has such a dramatic and positive impact on so many people's lives.”

“We are very pleased to welcome these new members to our Board of Directors”, said GBLS Executive Director Bob Sable. “They bring invaluable experience and their unique perspectives to our mission to assist the most vulnerable members of our society. Our Board is reflective of the full range of support GBLS is fortunate to have from all segments of the greater Boston legal community and members of the communities we serve.”

About Greater Boston Legal Services

Greater Boston Legal Services (GBLS) plays an indispensable role in the lives of people in need in the Boston area by providing high-quality civil legal assistance to low-income individuals and families. GBLS helps its clients navigate the complex maze of laws and regulations, enabling them to get the help they need when there is no other way to resolve their problems. GBLS annually provides legal assistance to more than 16,000 families or individuals who live at or below 125% of the federal poverty standard. Seventy-two percent of its clients are women, and 75% are minorities. GBLS assists victims of domestic violence, homeless families, elders, people with disabilities, homeowners facing foreclosure, tenants in no-fault evictions because their building has been foreclosed, low-wage workers, families with no source of income, and immigrants facing persecution. GBLS also provides legal counsel to scores of community-based groups and organizations to bring about positive systematic change. For more information, visit www.gbls.org.
